TAFT DELEGATES TAKE CONVENTION AWAY FROM DEBOE

His Revolutionary Ruling Met by Depriving Him of Quorum.

He Never Had Chance to Complete His Organization.

REVERSED HIS OWN RULINGS

Taft had the delegates and Fairbanks had the chairman.

When the Taft leaders in the First district Republican convention yesterday forced District Chairman W. J. Deboe to ignore the rule of the state central committee, reverse his own previous ruling and trespass on the prerogatives of the credentials committee, to save himself from ignominious defeat, they executed a parliamentary coup, that had been so accurately anticipated, they actually were able to take the convention right out of his hands without bolting or disrupting the organization, carrying with them eighty-seven of the one hundred and forty delegates, bearing credentials properly signed by the county chairmen of eight of the thirteen counties, and involving the Deboe side of the house in such a tangle that they were two hours extorting themselves, while the Taft convention proceeded in due order to carry out a program that had the endorsement of eight of the thirteen district committeemen.

It was apparent from the outset that if W. J. Deboe obeyed the rules of the state central committee, recognizing the right of delegations, certified to by the county chairman to vote on temporary organization, he would be beaten, while any other course would afford grounds for appeal. Deboe himself, planned to trap the Taft forces into remaining in his convention until a quorum was present, when they would either have to take their medicine or bolt. They did neither, and now it is up to the state central committee to uphold its own rules.

There were contests in Calhoun and Graves counties. Fairbanks delegation from Calhoun held credentials signed by the county chairman, and the Taft delegation from Graves held the same kind of credentials. Chairman Deboe declared the Fairbanks delegation from Calhoun seated, because it held credentials certified by the chairman; but in the Graves county contest, he considered affidavits filed by the contestants, and ignored the certificate of the chairman.

The Taft leaders insist that the presiding officer has no discretion, and must recognize the county chairman's certificate in the temporary organization, allowing all questions involved in the contest to be settled by the committee on credentials, which is composed of one member selected by each county delegation. With eight counties out of thirteen, represented by Taft delegations bearing such credentials, the desperation of the chairman was easily seen.

The decision, which resulted in the successful result, was made on the roll of the counties voting for temporary chairman. The Fairbanks candidate was Carl Henderson, of Crittenden county, and the Taft candidate was Dr. Frank Boyd, of Paducah.

When Calhoun was reached the chairman said nothing about the affidavits and other evidence of the contesting Taft delegation, but seated the Fairbanks delegation because its credentials were properly certified.

But when Graves county was reached, Chairman Deboe acknowledged that the Taft delegation's credentials were certified in exactly the same manner, but he took up the affidavits of the contesting Fairbanks delegation and arbitrarily seated it.

He refused to recognize J. C. Spight, who asked for a hearing, and compelled the call to proceed, barring F. M. Fisher's attempt to appeal from the chair.

J. C. Spight, leader of the Graves county Taft delegation, wished to be heard on the subject, because he said if it was passed, the Fairbanks delegation would vote on temporary organization, appoint its committee members, and the ruling of the chair-

Outrage Committed By Fifty Night Riders Causes Death of Woman in New Liberty, Owen County, Ky.

Destroy Twenty Thousand Pounds of Tobacco in Two Warehouses and Shoot Into Homes of Citizens.

Louisville, Ky., March 12.—(Special)—Fifty night riders burned two warehouses containing 20,000 pounds of tobacco, at New Liberty, Owen county, and shot the glass front out of Hurd Bros.' store and fired into several residences, one being that of an aged woman, who died a few hours later. Judge Commissick has ordered that a special grand jury be summoned at once to inquire into the outrage.

One warehouse was owned by the Cincinnati Tobacco Warehouse company and leased to Dave Snell, an independent buyer, and the other belonged to John Garvey.

SHERIFF WILL FIGHT

Hopkinsville, Ky., March 12. (Special)—Dave Smith, the sheriff removed by the county judge for failure to make bond in time, refuses to resign, secured a temporary injunction and will fight it through the courts.

SPECIAL MEETING OF THE GENERAL COUNCIL

Special meetings probably will be held during the present month by the aldermen and council to pass the ordinance, fixing the tax rate for 1908. The rate will undoubtedly be the same as last year, $1.85 on the $1.00 worth of taxable property. The budget for city expenses does not call for as much money as last year, but the floating indebtedness must be met and paid.

OLIVER FOR CANAL

Washington, D. C., March 12.—W. J. Oliver, of Knoxville, takes strong issue with John F. Stevens, former chief engineer, that the Panama canal will be a failure, and would not pay expenses if completed. Oliver says it will pay handsomely, and there will be no difficulty in completing it. He contends that it will also be of immense commercial benefit to Gulf states and portions of the Mississippi valley, and will build up amazingly American shipping. Oliver tells politicians here that Tennessee is certain to elect a solidly instructed Taft delegation.

Mr. W. F. Bradshaw, Sr., will be the Paducah judge at the oratorical contest which will be held at Hopkinsville Friday evening between the Madlouville, Hopkinsville and Paducah High schools. Mr. Edward Mitchell, the Paducah representative, selected Mr. Bradshaw yesterday afternoon.

FIFTEEN CENT BURLEY

Frankfort, Ky., March 12.—President Clarence Lebus, of the Burley Tobacco society, branch of the Society of Equity, announced here last night that a sale of 1,000 bushels of burley tobacco was made to the American Tobacco company. The price paid was 15 cents a pound, the price for which the burley owners have been contending since they organized to pool and withhold the crops from the so-called tobacco trust until it comes to their terms. This is the first sale made to the American Tobacco company since the fight began, two years ago. The sale was consummated at Winchester, where samples of the tobacco are stored in warehouses.

REPORT CURRENT THAT EGAN GETS TWO DIVISIONS

It is reported among railroad men that Superintendent A. H. Egan, of the Louisville division of the Illinois Central, is also to be made superintendent of the Nashville division, and that Supt. L. E. McCabe, of the Nashville division, will become assistant superintendent, with offices at Princeton. This is done, it is said, in the interest of economy.

SUPREME LAW OF

LAND TO BE HELD ABOVE HOME RULE

THE SAN FRANCISCO QUESTION

(Staff Correspondence.)
Washington, D. C., March 12.—Benjamin Franklin having been to European capitals as minister from the United States, knew what was necessary to make the treaty-making power effective, so when in the constitutional convention in 1787 this question came up for discussion, he moved and it was unanimously agreed to, "that treaties made by the United States shall be the supreme law of the land." In the constitution as completed, treaties were accorded the same and equal supremacy in the nation with the constitution itself, and any laws that might be made in pursuance thereto. Franklin knew that no treaty could stand that was not superior to any negative any of the states could exert on it. He also knew that intense local prejudices would doubtless come in conflict with treaties, hence his provision that treaties should be the supreme law.

President Roosevelt and Secretary Taft have aligned themselves with the view of Franklin and the other great leaders of the revolutionary period. The people of San Francisco doubtless did not know and just as Elwood Neel, deputy United States marshal, returned this morning from Mayfield, where he arrested Elmer Baergard, colored, on a charge of bootlegging. Marshal Neel arrested Baergard Monday and placed him in jail until trial time, and then Judge J. R. Bugg refused to give the prisoner to the marshal. Baergard was out on bond for a similar charge, and his trial was set for yesterday, but it was postponed and he was brought here. Baergard gave bond of $100 for his appearance before the federal court.

For carriage fare it will be 25 cents at all hours if the new ordinance passes the general council as recommended by the ordinance committee. Under the ordinance in force now, the carriage owners are permitted to charge 50 cents after midnight. For funerals the hack owners will be permitted to charge $4 for each carriage. The committee will recommend to the general council that "owl" cars be run to the Union station again. Last summer the traction company ceased to run the car, owing to improvements it was making at the burn, and the electricity was shut off. The committee thought the cars were needed and will ask that they be run again.

Judge Lightfoot this morning decided that the suits brought against the estates of Annie L. Parham and Susan Temple by H. L. Anderson, revenue agent, were prematurely brought and that no penalty should be collected by the revenue agent. The court held that suits to collect inheritance tax can not be brought until nine months have elapsed after the defendant comes into the inheritance. The court also expressed doubt as to whether the administrator could be forced to pay the tax until he made final settlement with the county court.

The suit against the Caldwell estate was by agreement continued until the April term of court.

The revenue agent will not ask an appeal from Judge Lightfoot's decision until investigation is made of court decisions in other states where a similar law is in force. The question is new to this state. Under the literal construction of the statute the suit may be brought by the revenue agent immediately after the death of any person leaving property to parties other than direct heirs, but this was considered unjust and not intended by the legislature.

The suit against Mrs. Emma Clark, Miss Marian Noble and Mrs. Blanton, beneficiaries of the will of their brother, Ed P. Noble, was compromised by the payment of the inheritance tax on $4,500 and the 20 per cent amercement.

A judgment was rendered against the Kentucky theater for a failure to pay state license and judgment was taken against Flournoy Bros. brokers, for failing to take out license. All pay $20 a year.

The case against O. P. Leigh for failing to take out license to do a brokerage business was continued until tomorrow.

On motion of C. W. Emery, the suit brought against Grant & Company, the English tobacco buyers, to collect taxes on $50,000 worth of personal property owned in 1907, was dismissed without prejudice.

CHICAGO RESIDENT RELATES MOST GREWSOME EXPERIENCE

During L. T. Cooper's recent visit to Chicago where his new preparation and theory created the usual sensation, many hundreds of people brought enormous internal parasites to the young man, which had left the system after taking his medicine.

Among these people was Mr. Emil Winkler, who brought to Cooper a tapeworm that proved to be over ninety feet in length. Mr. Winkler, who resides at 182 East Ohio street, Chicago, has this to say of his experience: "For five years I have been more or less complaining. I have had severe headaches, and any food that I would eat would nauseate me. I would have bad dreams almost every night; dizzy spells would compel me to quit work. Black spots would appear before my eyes when stooping over and rising quickly. I would feel tired most of the time; in fact, I had no life in me to speak of for the last five years. I tried various treatments, and one season will be the appearance of Miss Mary Emerson in "On Parole" at the Kentucky Saturday matinee and night. This remarkable play is from the pen of Louis Ryan Shujman, an author of note. Its first production occurred in New York last winter when Henry Miller's admirable company achieved a pronounced success in it. In casting about for a suitable vehicle for Miss Emerson, her managers found nothing that offered their talented, young stars so great an opportunity for the display of her ability as to play "On Parole."

The Mayor of Laughland.
On the heels of Tom Waters' appearance at the Kentucky matinee and night March 21, he will offer a new musical comedy entitled "The Mayor of Laughland." It is in three acts, all superbly presented with special scenery. The Waters company numbers thirty-five people and includes a first-class cast and a host of pretty chorus girls.

Chlor among the fun-makers is Waters, of course, but he does not hold the center of the stage all the time. It is occupied in turn by such clever performers as Otto Koerner, the German character impersonator, Major Casper Novak, smallest and merriest of comedians, Walter V. Milton, Charles Fulton, James Revere, Bessie Merrill, May V. Waters, Elaine D. Gilbert, the four gayety dancers, Misses Belle Turner, L. Butler, Mario Mizzi and Kitty Murray and others of minor note. There is a numerous and very light-footed chorus much in evidence throughout the three acts in snappy musical numbers. These include "Sobitters of the U. S. A.," "The Ghost of Davy Jones," "Black-eyed Biddy Flynn," "Eskl," "Tell Me True," and several excellent ballads.

Mr. Winkler is a fair sample of the experience of many during Cooper's stay in Chicago, and this no doubt helped to account for the enormous sale of the Cooper preparation in this city and others, recently visited by the young man.

We sell and will be pleased to explain the Cooper preparations.—W. H. McPherson.

to order and the call was read by Secretary C. H. Linn, then James Hapley of Mayfield, nominated Carl Henderson, a Fairbanks man of Crittenden, for temporary chairman, and J. C. Speight, of Mayfield, nominated Dr. Frank Boyd, of McCracken. The call of counties proceeded down to Graves, when Mr. Speight arose and called for Boyd's election. Dr. Boyd was seated in the witness stand between Chairman Deboe and the Taft delegates, who were in a mass, and he arose facing the delegates who were arranged in the most convenient shape for transacting business. Dr. C. H. Linn left W. J. Deboe's side and went into the Taft convention, carrying most of the delegates with him.

The delegations, meaning those which possessed credentials signed by the county chairmen, divided as follows:

Taft—Carlisle, 5; Hickman, 7; Fulton, 6; Graves, 16; Lyon, 7; Marshall, 6; McCracken, 21; Trigg, 13. Total, 87.

Fairbanks—Caldwel, 14; Crittenden, 17; Ballard, 6; Calloway, 8; Livingston, 8; Tomp, 53.

man would deprive the Taft delegation of even a right to a hearing.

The chairman refused to listen to him, and realizing that since the rules of the state central committee were being ignored, while the chairman changed his own ruling as often as suited his purpose, they could hope for no justice from Mr. Deboe, the delegations from Marshall, Carlisle, Fulton, Hickman, Lyon, and McCracken, Graves and Trigg counties, ignored the chairman, completed the organization of the convention with a clear majority of those qualified to vote on temporary organization, and proceeded with the business of the convention.

The Deboe side of the house was thrown into utter convulsion and once the chairman announced sixty-five votes on the Graves county contest, when seventy-one are necessary for the convention to do anything. He was quickly corrected and after that Carlisle, Hickman, Fulton, Lyon and McCracken counties were voted, although there wasn't a soul recognized by either side of the convention there to represent them. Those counties were all over in the Taft convention.

HAPPY RESULTS OBTAINED, By the Use of the New Scalp Antiseptic.

It wouldn't take long to number the hairs in the heads of some people, the reason being they haven't many to number. In most instances, however, the fault is their own. A germ at the root plays havoc with the most luxuriant growth and causes it to fade and fall out. A remedy for this has recently been discovered, called Newbro's Herpicide, that acts by destroying the germ that does the damage, besides removing all irritants from the scalp. In addition it permits new life and vigor to enter the scalp, and happy results are sure to be obtained from its use. Try it. Sold by leading druggists. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. inton the county of Graves was next reached. Forgetting about voting on their own contests the Graves county delegation by its chairman, James Happy, "piled in" and voted. A summing up by Secretary McLeod, the real brains of the outfit, showed that just 82 votes had been registered on the proposition to seat the Happy crowd. A thought struck Deboe and he arose to his feet and again declared that the Graves county delegation should wait until they were seated. "Just take off 16 votes, then," cried Jim Happy. This the secretary did and announced that 66 votes had been cast, all in the affirmative. A quorum was 77 votes. Then a hurried consultation was held and without the formality of asking for a recapitulation, even though the result had been announced by the chair, it was decided that it would be better to let parliamentary usages and alphabetical order procedure rest awhile and take up the contest from McCracken and seat the 24 delegates, who, according to Deboe's ruling were not yet in the convention. The unanimous report of the committee was that the McCracken county delegation headed by C. H. Chamberlain had been overwhelmingly elected at the county convention Tuesday and should be seated. The twenty-four votes thus generated helped some and Deboe gave a great sigh of relief and lapsed into a semi-comatose state, confident that the great obstacle had no where re-order and the call was read by Secretary C. H. Linn, then James Hapley of Mayfield, nominated Carl Henderson, a Fairbanks man of Crittenden, for temporary chairman, and J. C. Speight, of Mayfield, nominated Dr. Frank Boyd, of McCracken. The call of counties proceeded down to Graves, when Mr. Speight arose and called for Boyd's election. Dr. Boyd was seated in the witness stand between Chairman Deboe and the Taft delegates, who were in a mass, and he arose facing the delegates who were arranged in the most convenient shape for transacting business. Appeal to Be Taken.

Before the convention and in anticipation of the rulings of Chairman Deboe the following district committeemen signed the authority for the nomination and election of Dr. Boyd as was done: G. W. Hury, Hickman, M. H. Fisher, Carlisle; T. F. Headles, Fulton; A. H. Carnan, Graves; C. H. Linn, Lyon; Hardin Ford, Marshall; W. F. Tooke, Trigg; Frank Boyd, McCracken.

E. M. Fisher J. C. Speight and Hardin Ford were appointed a committee to certify the election to the state central committee. Their grounds will be that the chairman is compelled to recognize the certificates of the county chairmen on temporary organization; and, furthermore, that in the Graves county case, Dr. Boyd, who is alleged to have made a demand for a committee meeting and been denied, is not even a member of the committee, and the records of the state central committee show it.

The two conventions resulted as follows: For Taft delegates to the national Republican convention Dr. Frank Boyd, of Paducah, and Dr. C. H. Linn, of Kuttawa. Alternates, E. M. Fisher, of Paducah, and L. W. Key of Mayfield. For congress, Jerry M. Porter, of Clinton. For elector, Frank F. Harris, of Fulton. For state central committeeman, J. C. Speight, of Mayfield.

For Fairbanks delegates to the national Republican convention, W. J. Deboe, of Marion, and Adolph Wiel, of Paducah. Alternates, Charles Ferguson, of Smithfield, and A. F. Darden, colored, of Cadiz. For congress, County Judge Walter Blackburn, of Crittenden county. For elector, Ed Thomas, of Fulton. For state central committeeman, E. R. Miller, of Paducah.

Mock Convention.

After the large majority of the delegates at the convention, who had refused to longer submit to the revolutionary tactics and foolishness of Chairman Deboe yesterday afternoon, held a convention and adjourned one of the most amusing and grotesque farces ever presented. In the state or county was entered into and a large crowd of citizens who remained at the court house on account of the heavy downpour of rain, enjoyed the afterpiece immensely.

Deboe seated the McCracken county Taft delegation.

Not until the "convention" came to vote on the report of the committee on credentials did the inane politicians who gathered around the man whom tradition records once served a term in the United States senate, realize that a quorum was necessary to transact business under parliamentary usages. The Deboe committee on credentials, after apparently mature deliberation brought in a report which bore evidence of having been prepared before hand, seating the contesting delegations from Graves, McCracken, Trigg, Hickman and Fulton counties, the report being made blanket to cover all. By some strange mishap it occurred to Deboe that the contesting delegations could not vote to seat themselves in the convention. Walter Blackburn, the crowd's choice for congress, who evidently wished to show his good judgment, came to the rescue and made a motion that the contests be taken up separately and in alphabetical order. The motion prevailed and the county of Carlisle was taken up. Gracefully the Taft delegation was seated, though, let it be said, throughout the convention the Fairbanks delegation which was unseated by its own volition, voted on all questions coming before the convention. They were needed on account of that pesky quorum.

According to Mr. Blackburn's resoabout.

After the contests had been settled to the satisfaction of themselves, the delegates began to think something about instructions for delegates, who will start to the convention. Deboe was then reminded that he had a set of resolutions somewhere on his person that should be read. Majestically the old gladiator swung into action again and in a blustering, unflinching way read a few lines, which mildly endorsed the Roosevelt administration and Governor Wilson, but forgot to mention Senator-elect Bradley, the result of probably being framed up before the senator was elected. While reading the resolutions the speaker became very much affected with an emotional rigor and when he finished fell to his chair with a thud and the only real sense of the day. Then somebody moved an adjournment and the delegates filed out to receive their own hearty congratulations.

The contingent passed a resolution instructing for Bradley, Wilson, Verdes and McMillen for delegates from the state at-large.

Newspapers Blunder.
The statement published in two Paducah papers that the Calloway county delegation seated by Deboe voted for Dr. Boyd for chairman but refused to participate when he was seated and took charge of the convention, is absolutely untrue and in keeping with their garbled report of the entire proceedings they have published. The regular delegation from Calloway, having had little time to deliberate, seated the chairman, was rightly allowed to vote on temporary organization and Dave Redden, the Fairbanks leader in that county cast the eight votes for Henderson for chairman. The Taft delegates loudly applauded the decision of the chair in allowing the delegates with credentials signed by the chairman of their county to participate in the temporary

FRIENDSHIP OF JAPAN WANTED

Russian Foreign Minister Makes Speech in Duma.

Existing Between Japan and European Countries Pointed Out as Guarantee for Peace.

NETWORK OF NEW TREATIES

St. Petersburg, March 12.—During a debate in the duma on the bill raising the Russian legation at Tokio to an embassy, which eventually was passed, Foreign Minister Iswolsky delivered a lengthy speech in which he said that however distressing the sacrifices made by the Portsmouth treaty, it must be acknowledged that Russia lost nothing of her historical inheritance, but only what either previously belonged to Japan, or geographically and economically gravitated towards Japan.

Accordingly, he declared, there was nothing to prevent Russia from stretching out her hand to her late opponents.

His personal acquaintance with leading Japanese statesmen, he continued, convinced him of a reciprocal desire on the part of Japan to arrive at a good understanding with Russia. He pointed out the network of international treaties, including those between France and Japan and Great Britain and Russia as assisting, with Russia's alliance with France, a guarantee for preservation of peace in the far east.

Germany and the United States, with both of whom Russia maintained sincerely friendly relations, he continued, were striving for the same goal, namely—firm equilibrium and peace in the Pacific coast.

FIRE DRILLS

INAUGURATED SYSTEMATICALLY AT HIGH SCHOOL.

Plans for Clearing Big Building Rapidly in Case of Fire Being Studied.

Instructions for the fire drills were issued today by Prof. W. H. Sugg, principal of the High school, and this afternoon the regular fire drill was held. Lines have been marked on the floor for the pupils to follow, and no confusion is expected. In case the fire should be such that the students would be prevented from reaching the fire escape at the east end of the building they would reach the ground in safety by passing down the steps at the other end of the building. The drill is so arranged that there would not be any crowding at the doors. On the first floor of the building, rooms 7 and 8 pass out west door; rooms 4 and 6 out south entrance; 1 and 2 out east entrance; 3 and 5 out north entrance. On the second floor rooms 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13 pass down east stairway, and rooms 14, 15, 16 and 17 pass down the west stairway.

In the High school the students in the recitation rooms will go down the west stairway, and the students in the auditorium and Miss Noble's room will use the south stairway. The fire alarm will be three rapid taps of the gong, followed by a pause, and three more rapid taps. The teachers near the exits will head the lines, and the teachers on the upper floors will follow the lines.

Basketball.

Tomorrow afternoon the Blues and Whites and the Reds and Yellows will play the third of the championship games.

Much interest has been manifested in the games, and there is much speculation as to the probable winner.

The High school girls will begin play at 4 o'clock. From 1 o'clock to 3:30 o'clock the girls of the seventh and eighth grades will have a practice game, followed by the organization of the teams.

The Mystery

By Stewart Edward White and Samuel Hopkins Adams

ILLUSTRATED BY PARKER

In this fascinating sea tale of not one mystery but many the enchanted reader loses himself, a willing slave to the spell the gifted authors weave about him. As the Independent, that staunch religious publication of sound judgment, puts it, "the book stands the final test: it convinces the reader for the moment." It holds him, too. Forgetful of his surroundings, he will never be satisfied until the mystery is solved.

Electricity on Saxon Farms. Current German newspapers contain an interesting account of the application of electricity to a group of farms in Saxony. The electric current is brought from an adjacent town by overhead wires carried on wooden poles. Two receiving stations are arranged from which the electricity is distributed to the farm buildings and to convenient positions in the fields for the purpose of driving threshing and other machinery. Sixteen fixed electric motors are installed for shaft and root cutting, oil crushing, pumping, and for operating machinery used in the manufacture of potato spirit. In addition to this power equipment six portable motors are provided, which may be used for driving pumps, circular saws, threshing machinery, and so forth, at any point where their services are required. The houses and buildings on the farms are all lighted by electricity, nine are lamps and about 1,000 glow lamps being used for the purpose.

It must be pointed out, however, that this example could only be followed in the United States on a large estate or a group of adjacent farms, and it is doubtful whether such a scheme could be made a commercial success for the operation of farm machinery pure and simple. It would appear that wood sawing, pumping and other operations requiring power must be included if the results are to compare favorably with those at present obtained by the use of oil or steam engines. But the Saxon experiments is full of interest and displays a curiously progressive spirit in a country where farm fences are almost unknown and shepherds and cowherds are still living amid picturesque realities.—Exchange.

It is cured probably, that they were attacking the constitution when they plotted against the Japanese. The idea of every community doing what it pleases regardless of how their action may effect the outside world is so strong, that situations similar to the one in San Francisco may arise at any time in the United States. Local self-government is the essential principle of Republican institutions, but even it should not supersede common sense. If a treaty made by this great nation as a whole, can be negatived by one small fraction of its people and territory, it is plain that no nation will treat our proposals for treaties seriously. That is exactly what San Francisco did. They decided that they wanted to arrange their school system in such and such a way and when the authorities, who knew something of the broad questions involved, did not hump themselves to make those changes, riots followed. Some other things followed that are still in process of negotiation between the United States and Japan, and only a few people know how near we came to an open rupture with that nation.

Extraordinary precaution will have to be taken in future treaties to insure that their provisions do not contravene local institutions and opinions; but even with this precaution, it is inevitable that some local prejudices will have to be sacrificed for the benefit of the whole nation. The United States cannot afford to go ahead and make treaties and then allow some local irritation to precipitate an issue between it and the other nations, that might require a war to settle. Had the San Francisco trouble occurred 20 years from now when the Japanese had recuperated from their recent war, it is certain that the United States would have had to back down sharply or gone to war. The common sense of the American people will not stand for such an absurd exercise of local power that it virtually transcends the national power. We may be a group of local units when we are dealing with internal matters, but we are a nation when it comes to foreign states.

No Entanglements

The United States is not to be entangled in foreign affairs when it makes treaties. To violate Jefferson's adage, we would have to make a live alliance with foreign powers. These treaties are such as are made to secure harmonic relations with other nations. The first provisions of a treaty of a sovereign state, is to secure to its citizens shall enjoy the same rights and privileges in their nation, as they enjoy in their nation. Our country provided this, and in uniting against Japan, the San Francisco violated this, and also violated the constitution which is the supreme law of the land. Nobody argues that growing American children, but it is notorious fact that the San Francisco riots were essentially anti-Mongolian. A local prejudice simply adopted means to make itself felt, that far-sighted statesmen believe will yet be paid for in numberless lives and innumerable wealth. Japan backed down, true enough. But this backing down may be similar to the backing down before the Russian advance—until Japan was ready to strike; then Russia found, as the world knows, that her temporary gait was purchased with a lasting set-back. Japan will not forget the San Francisco riots. She knows and we know that our treaty will be violated.

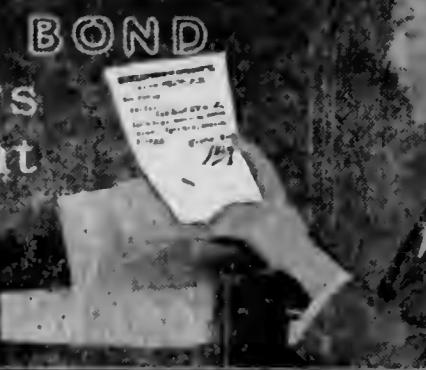

We have been so absorbed in our internal development and our own affairs, have been so engrossing, that we do not realize that we are now carrying on a great commerce with other nations. Nations any more than individuals, cannot live unto themselves. Our growing commerce with foreign nations must be aided by trade treaties that will make concessions in order to get concessions. This does not mean that we will have to throw open our doors to coarse immigration. It does mean that those citizens of the nation with whom the treaty is made, who may be in the United States, shall have the same rights, privileges and immunities of American citizens, if the treaty specifies it. It does mean that a treaty once made, is as supreme in this country as the constitution itself, and that no state can make a law that nullifies it. And common sense will dictate that the people should not in riots do what their legislatures cannot lawfully do. Some other more decent, more humanitarian means to make their wishes felt, must be found. The spectacle of the national government, the only government foreign powers know, bowing down to a local prejudice, ought not to be seen again.

Individual independence and local self-government are not involved at all in the view that treaties are the supreme law of the land. The opposition to a supreme treaty-making power originates from a motive that is the antithesis of self-government. Self-government means self-control,

"Character is controlled will."THE DELEGATES OR THE CHAIR-MAN.Before now delegates have bolted, and delegates have forcibly removed a chairman from the convention, but yesterday was the first time in the last congressional district that delegates ever took a convention away from the chairman. Yet, that is exactly what was done by eighty-seven of the one hundred and forty delegates in the Republican district convention, and they had the authority of eight of their thirteen district committees for doing it.The rules of the state central committee say, "when two or more delegations claim to have been selected by the convention called to order by the regular official of the party, the delegation, which has its credentials properly certified by the regular official of the party who called said convention to order shall, until the contest is settled, take part in the work of the convention."That regular official is the county chairman, and as the contests are nearly settled by the credentials committee, the delegations holding credentials certified to by the county chairman take part in the work of the convention until the credentials committee acts. The credentials committee does not act until the temporary organization is effected by electing a temporary chairman, and so the delegations with credentials certified by the county chairman, vote for temporary chairman, it was eighty-seven delegates thus qualified, representing eight of the thirteen counties in the district, who revolted yesterday, when Chairman Deboe refused the right of sixteen of them to take part in the work of the convention, and there never was a quorum present to effect a temporary organization of the convention which W. J.
Deboe called to order. The revolt took place before he had seated a quorum, and so the Fairbanks men never really held a convention.The unique question is raised whether a majority of the delegates without the chairman, or the chairman without a quorum constitute a convention.All the sophistry W. J. Deboe may indulge in will not change the fact that he had no right to go behind the certificate of the county chairman of Graves county in the temporary organization. If anything was wrong in Graves county it was the right of the convention, through its credentials committee to remedy it.Deboe's position, of course, was clear. The credentials committee would be composed of one member chosen by each county delegation having credentials signed by the county chairman. Eight of those delegations were for Taft, and so eight of the thirteen members of the credentials committee would be for Taft.Consequently he just assumed the responsibility of settling the contests himself. It was the crowning act of the scheme to create fictitious contests in strong Taft counties, as was exposed in The Sun Tuesday in reviewing the proceedings in Mc-Cracken, Trigg and Graves counties.How accurately The Sun reported the McCracken county convention and how far wrong the other paperswere, is shown by the fact that W. J.
Deboe himself had to seat the Mc-Cracken county Taft delegates on temporary organization, although they were engaged in the proceedings of the regular convention presided over by Dr. Frank Boyd. Readers will find that The Sun again in reference to the district convention contains the only intelligent account of what transpired.There is some humor in the idea of the political enemies of the national administration preferring charges with the administration against its friends for taking its side in a political contest. The more we consider the situation the more we are convinced that the Fairbanks men are more anxious to injure the standing of the present national administration than they are to win the next presidential election, and that leads us to believe that the same men are trying to defeat both Taft and Bryan for the nomination. Then they wouldn't care who wins.WORST KIND OF FALSEHOOD.
Not because we think the warped brain that makes the explanation necessary can grasp the idea, but to make clear to others, who may have the misfortune to start the day wrong by reading falsehoods, the "managing editor of The Sun," who is accused of saying in the Courier-Journal, February 23, that "If he (Deboe) wins in the district he will have the fight to make all over again," will say that the construction put upon the quotation is worse than a lie made of the whole cloth, because it is purposely misconstrued, and if what went before it was published, it would show that the article published in the Courier-Journal, February 23, and attributed to the managing editor of The Sun, had no reference to any possible hold in the Republican district convention, and any one reading that sentence and professing to believe that it had is either a fool or a liar.The article was devoted to the action of the state central committee, the substance of which was that the state central committee had fixed the county conventions for the purpose of reorganizing the counties of the state at a later date, so that "If he (De-boe) wins the district he will have the fight to make all over again," meaning that even if Deboe should get the district chairmanship, the central committee had so arranged it that he would have another fight in each county to prevent the anti-Deboe faction electing county chairmen who are members of the district committee.For the information of the unenlightened we suggest that postmasters are not under the civil service, but deputy collectors and gaugers are.THOSE CHARGES.
The bluff of the Fairbanks crowd about filing charges against some of the Taft leaders has no effect. If Secretary of State Bruner can travel to Paducah to help Deboe run a "Music Hall" convention, and M. H.
Thatcher, state examiner under pay of the state, can devote his entire time to sending out threatening letters to the Taft men, and Collector Franks can employ his entire force in running a Fairbanks campaign in this end of the state, the Taft men have enough manhood to stand their ground and say to those intimidators that when it comes to choosing between sacrificing their rights as American citizens and holding federal offices, they stand by their citizenship.

Well, the minute the ship left the dock I felt better. I threw out my chest—and a lot of other things I didn't need—and prepared to enjoy life.By the time we got to Sandy Hook the ship was having St. Vitus dance, and most of the passengers decided to go below to unpack. I started to find my stateroom, and I think I buttled into every one there was. I was finally herded into one just as the occupant, a lady, was climbing into the upper berth. She said, "Sir!" Then the ship went the other way, and I was never so completely sat on by a lady in my life!At last I found my own stateroom, which was a locker with a couple of shelves in it.The ship now seemed to stand on the nose and wag her tail in the air; I deliberated whether I should close the port hole and go to my berth, or close my berth and go to the port hole. On the fourth day I began to take notice of things, and crawled out on deck just as the ship was doing a buck and wing. I was shot from one end of the ship to the other, finishing with a head-on collision with a fat man's stomach. He was mad because I butted in on his breakfast. I apolo-rest of the meal we fed each other.The day it was rough the pass-going over to get it, for she certainly didn't have it with her. She consented to take part in the concert, and chose a fitting selection for a rough night—"Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep." Just as ship started in to sing the ship side-stepped and threw her under the table. A friend of mine was accompanying her on the piano, so, of course, he had to follow her. I said: "For heaven's sake, is this a concert or a knockabout act?" The prima donna thought she was down for a solo—but she was down for an hour.

The president went on to speak of Taft's happy temperament, of his remarkable ability to deal with men, of his love for consultation, of his patience in thrashing out differences of opinion, of his wholesome good humor, of his extraordinary facility for getting at the heart and the justice of any complex problem, of his fine legal and judicial training, of his vast experience in both national and international affairs, of his well-nigh perfect equipment for the difficult rôle of president of the United States. It was such an appreciation, coming from Theodore Roosevelt, as would have made the ears of the modest Mr. Taft "the fine big boy-man in public life" burn not a little had he heard it.

During this same conversation Mr.
Itsoevo spoke of his own experience in the white house. He spoke with great modesty, with fine dignity, without the slightest affectation, as simply as a man might talk of his term of service as county clerk or the cashier of a bank. He told the men who filled the presidency an easy place to fill ought to have a chance to try it. Then they would find out how greatly they had been mistaken. "It is the hardest job on earth," said Mr. Roosevelt. But he added that he was himself not the least tired, not a bit fatigued, and was, in fact, just as fresh as the day he began his service.

Mr. Roosevelt retains his strength because he refuses to worry, because he has mastered the job, and because more particularly he has learned how to avoid burdening himself with details.

For example, if any one wants to do business about public lands he must go to Garfield; about Indians, to Linn; about consuls, to Root or Bacon, and so on. When he first came to the white house Mr. Roosevelt tried to run the whole government on himself details and work and worry which he had no need to take. Now he throws all these things off on his assistants and goes out for a drive or a walk. The result is, today he is as fresh and clear-eyed and strong and active as any prime young athlete in the land.

In talking about Taft he laid stress upon one point, the presidency is too big a job to be successfully handled.
